

It has come to our attention that some people are having garage sales.

The regulations that we are all following at this time does not permit someone to have a garage sale.

- 1) Stay At Home Order - No Non-Essential meetings/ activities – a garage sale is not considered essential.
- 2) Social Distancing (6' away) – Avoiding close contact with other people, this would include multiple people stopping by your home.

Common Sense suggests that you would not want people you don't know stopping by your home during the COVID-19 Pandemic.
